HOPE OF THE PARTY IN A SOUTHERN MAN

Mr. Lassiter Thinks Public Welfare Demands That Public Men Declare Themselves.

COUNTS ON BRYAN WINNING

Philadelphia Man Says He Is the Best Advertised Candidate and a Sure Winner.

BY WALTER EDWARD HARRIS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 15.— on. Francis R. Lassiter, member o Ion. Francis R. Lassiter, member of the House of Representatives from the Fourth Virginia District, was in the city to-day for the first time in a long while. He spent a busy day at the departments, looking after business for his district, but he found time to discuss the presidential outlook from a Democratic viewpoint. Mr. Lassiter clings closely to the position he assumed in a speech delivered at Charleston, S. C., some months ago, in which ton, S. C., some months ago, in which he advocated the nomination of a Bouthern Democrat to the presidency as an assurance of conservatism of views on the part of the candidate and conservatism in the administration the government, should the Demo

"In times when the presidential office exercises such commanding power, it is impossible to separate a personality from the platform," he said. "For this reason, the sooner public men declare openly the fact that the movement to nominate a Southern man in the next Demogratic National. openly the fact that the movement to nominate a Southern man in the next Democratic National Convention has its inspiration in solemn and emphatic protest against extreme views, the better for the Democratic party. Clear-cut frankness on this subject will afford a rallying point for every conservative influence. It will generate an insistent demand for testing the tendencies of the times before it is too late to preserve our institutions. General apprehensiveness in all business circles at a time of abundant natural productions, and following a period of hopeful business expansion, is the sure precursor of a revulsion of political sentiment. I believe that the American people will find a way to preserve their political institutions, upon which depend the property interests of the poorest as well as the richest. In this natural instinct resides the greatest opportunity the Democratic party ever had."

Mr. Lassiter spent considerable time at the Post-Office Department to-day, pressing claims of the people in several counties of his district for the establishment of rural free delivery routes. He has recently succeeded in having an inspector sent down to look over a number of proposed routes, and is confident of favorable reports.

Mr. Lassiter also introduced to General Alnsworth, adjutant-general of the

Mr. Lassiter also introduced to General Ainsworth, adjutant-general of the army, John E. Townes, Jr., of Petersburg, recently graduated from the Virginia Military Institute, with the rank of captain, and just designated to take the examination for appointment as second lieutenant in the army. He will be examined at Fort Leavenworth, Kuns., on September 24. General Ainsworth, in speaking of the Virginia Military Institute, was pronounced in his commendation of the high military standard reached by its graduates.

Bryan Can Beat Hoosevelt.

Bryan Can Bent Roosevelt.

Bryan Can Beat Hoosevelt.

The advertising manager for a Philadelphia paper, in an interview in this city to-day, expressed the opinion that Mr. Bryan will be elected the next President of the United States, no matter who is pitted against him. "I base my opinion solely on the fact that Mr. Bryan is so well advertised," he said. "President Roosevelt is about as well advertised, but there are indications that his popularity is waning. Secretary Taft is a much-advertised man, but his advertisement comes large through his connection with the administration, and his popularity is to a greater or less degree reflected. Were refreshed Roosevelt to throw a half-dozen trust magnates into jail about the time the nominating convention is held, and keep them there until after the election, he would be nominated and elected. Nothing short of that, in my opinion, could make him win over Mr. Bryan. My opinion is simply that of a man who believes that advertising pays, and, that if persisted in, will ret the President of the American Institute of a man who believes that advertising pays, and, that if persisted in, will ret the President of the American Institute of a man who believes that advertising pays, and, that if persisted in, will ret the President of the American Institute of Architecture by King Edward in 1903. pays, and, that if persisted in, get the Presidency itself at last."

KNOX'S SON TO SELL AUTOS.

Becomes Salesman, and Pittsburg Society is Mildly Surprised.

PITTSBURG, August 15.—Reed Knox, son of United States Senator Knox, to-day entered upon his career as an automobile salesman in Pittsburg. This announcement, which leaked out to-day from the Keystone Auto Company, for which young Knox has gone to work, caused a mild sensation in exclusive club and social circles, in which he always has been a conspicuous figure.

He was educated at one of the big Eastern colleges, and it has been expected that he would begin a career at law or some other profession. Last typing young Knox broke away from the conventionality of the circles in which he has been raised by going Iway very quietly and marrying Miss McCook, of Washington, D. C., to the great surprise of his relatives and Vitness of Yellowstone Park Incident Brings Back Story of President's Daughter.

SPEARFISH S. DAK., Aug. 15.—When Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth and Congressman Longworth were in Yellowstone Park with Vice-President Fairhanks and Senator B. R. Tillman, the President's daughter met with an accident, according to D. C. Booth, superintendent of the United States fish hatchery at Spearfish, who has just returned from there.

The party was looking at one of the large clay pits, when Mrs. Longworth slipped and fell headforemost into the pit. It was filled with a soft, oozy red clay, and Mrs. Longworth was a sight to behold.

Instead of displaying his customary clay, and Mrs. Longworth was a signt to behold.

Instead of displaying his customary gallantry, Congressman Longworth stood by and enjoyed a most provoking laugh, according to Booth.
As a consequence Mrs. Longworth was conducted to the hotel by other members of the party, and it is declared that for the rest of the afternoon her husband preferred admiring the scenery to facing his wife's plaue.

Every mother feels a great dread of the pain and danger attendant upon the most critical period of her life. Becoming a mother should be a source of joy to all, but the suffering and danger incident to the ordeal makes its anticipation one of misery. Mother's Friend is the only remedy which relieves women of the great pain and danger of maternity; this hour which is dreaded as woman's severest trial is not only made painless, but all the danger is avoided by its use. Those who use this remedy are no longer despondent or gloomy; nervousness, hausea and other distressing conditions are overcome, the system is made ready for the coming event, and the ment which the lineame bonds are to have at the hands of the new management. It has been feared by the bond-holders that the interest on their bonds, which is payable only if carned, may be cut off by the new controllers of the property, and it has been alleged that recessive charges out of carnings have been made for construction and new equipment.

Conferences with Messrs, Perry and Thorne were held yesterday. A committee of five, of which Mr. F. W. Scott, of the Richmond banking firm of Scott & Stringfellow, is chairman, was appointed at this conference to consider the suggestions offered, and to report upon them to their associates at an adjourned meeting held this afternoon.

Various plans for meeting the demands of the bondholders were discussed, but, according to a member of the bondholders' committee, no decision was reached. Another meeting will be held to-morrow, when it is expected that some definite proposition will be submitted to the income bondal holders, probably in the form of notes extending over a period of several years.
